Dear Russ:

Thank you for sending the Lewin obituary. Thanks, too, for your kind note.

I found the enclosed quite by chance yesterday when going through a pile of odds-and-ends. I think it is safe to say that no researcher has seen it.

These materials arrived at the Marshall Library postmarked September 24, 1979, Washington, DC. There was no cover letter or return address. As the documents bear National Security Agency markings of "For Official Use Only," I thought it best to send them to you. Let me state, for reasons I am sure you can appreciate, that these materials were never accessioned by the Marshall Library, and as such, were never formally the property of the Library.

From what I read about the "gerbils" in the Post this morning, you had better not divide your Redskins allegiance with those sorry Federals.

Sincerely yours,

John N. Jacob
